Introduction
The student charter describes the rights and obligations of Leiden University and its students. These rights and obligations are laid down in laws and regulations. The descriptions provided in the student charter do not diminish or add to these laws and regulations in any way.

The student charter consists of two sections.

- The institutional section, which is identical for each student;
- The study programme section, which is intended for students on a particular study programme. This section is provided in the form of a (e)-prospectus for each study programme.

The student charter and university regulations can be viewed in hard copy at PITSstop information centre, which is located at Plexus Student Centre. They can also be accessed via the internet.

Scope
The student charter only applies to students of Leiden University who are registered on a government-funded study programme. However some topics also apply to external students.

Ratification and publication
The student charter is ratified annually by the Executive Board (CvB), following approval by the University Council (UR). Thereafter the charter is published by the CvB. The CvB is also responsible for announcing any changes to the charter. Students are expected to keep up to date with information relating to the annual ratification of the student charter and the relevant changes via the university website and by reading announcements in the university (digital) newsletter.

Legal provision and university regulations
The student charter describes all the rights and obligations of Leiden University and its students, as referred to in article 7.59 of the Higher Education and Research Act (hereafter referred to as the WHW). In addition to these statutory provisions the charter also comprises rights and obligations laid down in university regulations. In the event of conflicting information the law and university regulations always prevail.

Compliance with the charter
Students may submit an objection or (administrative) appeal if they believe that the university is not complying with its obligations as stated in the law and regulations.
1. General Stipulations

1.1 Definitions

WHW : The higher education and research act (governmental gazette 1992, 593 and all subsequent amendments). In Dutch: Wet op het hoger onderwijs en wetenschappelijk
onderzoek

University : Leiden University

Study programme : Bachelor’s or Master’s programme, as referred to in article 7.3 of the WHW programme, consisting of general and introductory course units with a total course load of 60 credits

Academic year : The period that starts on 1 September and ends on 31
August of the following calendar year

Student : An individual who is registered at Leiden University, pursuant to the WHW, for a full-time, part-time or dual study programme

External student : An individual who is registered at Leiden University and is only entitled to sit exams and tests, pursuant to article 7.63 of the WHW; an external student does not have the right to follow an educational programme or to use the university facilities, with the exception of library facilities

Course and examination regulations (OER) : Regulations in which the rights and obligations of students and of a study programme, or a group of study programmes, concerning the education, examinations and tests of that study programme, as referred to in article 7.13 of the WHW, are set down by the relevant
Faculty Board. In Dutch: Onderwijs- en Examenregeling

Rules and Regulations : The regulations in which procedures are laid down that the Board of Examiners follow in cases of requests from students and fraud, as referred to in article 7.12b of the WHW. Also see paragraph 7.2.

Any such discrepancies are not binding and are of no legal effect.
2. Entry and admission

2.1 Admission to the propaedeutic phase

2.1.1 Prior education requirements
All university bachelor’s degree programmes at Leiden University have admission requirements. Individuals wishing to register as a student on the propaedeutic phase of a university bachelor’s degree programme must meet one or more of the following prior education requirements:

- A pre-university education (VWO) diploma with the appropriate profile;
- An ‘old-style’ pre-university education (VWO) diploma with the correct subject combination or profile.
- A Higher Professional Education (HBO) or University Bachelor diploma and, if an individual does not have a pre-university education (VWO) diploma with the correct subject combination or profile and wishes to follow a study programme in Greek and Latin Languages and Culture or a study programme offered by the Faculty of Mathematics & Natural Sciences or LUMC, a statement of admission issued by the admission committee in which it is stated that the committee judges the individual to have sufficient knowledge, insight and skills to be able to successfully complete the study programme in question. For other study programmes admission is arranged automatically in uSis and a statement of admission is not required;
- A Higher Professional Education (HBO) or University propaedeutic (first year) diploma (individuals who do not have a pre-university education (VWO) diploma), accompanied by a statement of admission issued by the admission committee in which it is stated that the committee judges the individual to have sufficient knowledge, insight and skills to be able to successfully complete the study programme in question. For certain study programmes it has been decided that no additional requirements will be prescribed and a statement of admission is not required. For these programmes admission takes place automatically in uSis and a statement of admission is not required.
- Another diploma, obtained in the Netherlands or another country, accompanied by a statement of admission issued by the admission committee in which it is stated that the committee judges the individual to have sufficient knowledge, insight and skills to be able to successfully complete the study programme in question;
- A colloquium doctum statement.
- For Dutch-taught study programmes a Dutch language requirement applies and, subject to the individual’s previous educational qualifications, English language requirements may also apply. For English-taught study programmes English language requirements apply. These requirements are stated in the OER of the study programmes in question;
- Further information on application procedures, admission procedures and student registration deadlines can be found on the website.

If there are any discrepancies between the original Dutch version of the ‘Studentenstatuut 2018-2019’ and this English translation, the Dutch version shall govern. Any such discrepancies are not binding and are of no legal effect.
2.1.2 Deficiencies
The Minister of Education, Culture and Science (OCW) determines whether any additional requirements must be applied for admission to a particular study programme, in addition to the specified pre-university education (VWO) profile. For admission to the programme in question these requirements must be met prior to commencement of the programme.

A number of degree programmes, designated by the Minister of OCW, may allow the student to remedy deficiencies during the propaedeutic phase (first year) of the programme. It is left to the discretion of the educational institution as to whether this option should be exercised. If so this will be stated in the OER of the relevant study programme.

2.1.3 Entrance examinations
Colloquium doctum (entrance examination) is a specific admission procedure for individuals who:

- are not directly admissible to a university study programme on the grounds of their diploma, and
- are aged 21 or above

The faculty or study programme determines the tests to be taken. The requirements for the colloquium doctum are laid down in the (OER) of the relevant study programme. More detailed information and a description of the requirements for each faculty/study programme can be found on the university website (in Dutch).

2.1.4 Modified procedure: Selection and placement and (compulsory) matching
A number of study programmes have different application or admission procedures. These are:

- Academic Primary School Teacher Bachelor’s Programme (Academische Pabo)
- Liberal Arts & Sciences (Leiden University College - The Hague)
- Psychology (compulsory matching)
- Medicine (selection and placement)
- Clinical Technology (selection and placement via TUD)
- Biomedical Sciences (selection and placement)
- Criminology (selection and placement)
- Fiscal Law (selection and placement)
- Biopharmaceutical Sciences (compulsory matching)
- Security Studies (compulsory matching)
- Physics (compulsory matching)
- Political Science (The Hague) (compulsory matching)
- Astronomy (compulsory matching)

By way of the selection and placement procedure, study programmes can gain a clearer picture of a student’s abilities. Prospective students also have the opportunity to demonstrate their abilities and gain a clearer picture of whether this is the right study programme for them. The way in which the selection procedure is implemented varies from programme to programme. You can read about how the selection and placement procedure is implemented on the website.

Matching
Leiden University finds it important that students select a study programme for which they are well suited. For this reason, many study programmes ask prospective students to complete a questionnaire, the Study Choice Check, and thereafter to attend information activities. Certain study programmes also have extensive compulsory matching activities. You can read about how (compulsory) matching works on the programme websites.

2.1.5 Binding study advice
At the end of their first academic year students are issued with binding study advice concerning progression on the study programme by the Faculty Board. Students must obtain the minimum required number of academic credits and meet any additional requirements as specified in the OER of the study programme. The Faculty Board is permitted to delay the issuance of study advice in situations involving insufficient information concerning personal circumstances during the first year of study. A detailed description of BSA is available on the university website.

2.2 Admission to the post-propaedeutic phase

2.2.1 Admission to the second year of a Bachelor programme
Students will be admitted to the second year of the bachelor programme after they have completed the propaedeutic phase. Students may ask the Board of Examiners to grant them permission to sit examinations in the second year of the bachelor programme before they have passed the first-year examination. Information on this arrangement can be found in the OER of the study programme.

2.2.2 Admission to minors
Students have the opportunity to follow a minor as one of their optional elective courses. All minors are accessible to bachelor’s students who have completed their propaedeutic phase. Some minors have a selection procedure or additional entry requirements. Most minors have a maximum number of participants. Further information about minors and application procedures can be found on the university website.

Admission requirements – educational minor
As students are required to have sufficient prior knowledge, the educational minor is only accessible to students on a related programme who can produce a statement from the programme concerned stating that all first- and second-year course units have been successfully completed or that this is expected to happen before the start of the educational minor.
2.2.3 Admission to master programmes

Students who meet the admission requirements of the programme in question will receive a statement of admission to a master programme (with conditions if applicable) from the Faculty Board. In certain cases, the successful completion of a pre-master programme grants admission to the programme. All admission requirements are stated in the OER of the programme. In addition there must be sufficient places available on the master programme.

Whether you can be admitted onto a Leiden master programme depends on your previous education. Information on admission requirement can be found on the website of the study programme/specialisation in question, under the heading Entry requirements / Toelatingseisen.

Information about application procedures and deadlines can be found on the website of the study programme/specialisation in question, in the left-hand column, under Admission and Application.

In 2018/2019, a capacity restriction is in place for the following study programmes:

- Child Law
- Within the two-year master programme in Asian Studies: the majors in Chinese Studies, Japanese Studies and Korean Studies
- Within the master programme in Media Studies: the majors in Journalism and New Media
- Within the master programme in History: the major in Europaeum
- Medicine
- Biomedical Sciences
- Pharmacy
- Vitality and Ageing

Request for admission

Upon submission of a request for admission, if a student is found not to meet the admission requirements as stated in the OER, it will be decided whether admission could be granted after, for example, following a pre-master programme.

2.2.4 Iudicium Abeundi

The Executive Board can terminate or refuse the registration of a student on the grounds of behaviour or remarks that demonstrate unsuitability to practise the profession of doctor, education specialist, psychologist or teacher in as much as this concerns the study programmes in Medicine, Education and Child Studies, Psychology and university teacher training. This is set down in the Iudicium Abeundi Protocol (section 7.42a WHW).
3. Student registration

3.1 Student registration
The procedures for student registration are determined by the CvB and published in the Regulations for Student Registration, Tuition Fees and Examination Fees 2018-2019. More information can be found on the website.

3.1.1 Student registration procedure
Student registration takes place per individual study programme and generally remains valid for an entire academic year. The academic year runs from 1 September up to and including 31 August of the following calendar year.

Students must submit a request for student registration via Studielink no later than 31 August preceding the academic year in question. Students who are commencing a Bachelor programme for the first time are required to submit a request for registration before 1 May of the preceding academic year. A student card (i.e. proof of student registration) will be issued within three weeks of completion of student registration procedures, but not before the middle of the month of July preceding the academic year, and only on condition that all requirements for registration have been met.

Upon registration students are issued with a ULCN account which is coupled to a uMail account. Each ULCN account and password is unique to that particular student. ULCN accounts allow students to access the digital learning environment and also serve as a means of identification when a student digitally submits an objection or appeal. Decisions issued by or on behalf of the Executive Board, such as binding study advice, are sent to students via uMail, as is the latest university information.

Commencing studies in February
In principle there is a second permitted commencement date for student registration for all (Master) programmes, namely 1 February. Students wishing to register as of 1 February must submit a request for student registration via Studielink by 31 January at the latest. The OER of each study programme states whether permission to commence student registration in February must be requested in advance from the study programme. Prior to student registration in that academic year no courses may be attended, there is no right to be supervised or to sit tests or examinations, no papers may be submitted for marking and no use may be made of student facilities. In the period that a student is not enrolled as a full-time student he or she is not entitled to Dutch student finance nor the accompanying public transport card (OV card).

3.1.2 Conditions for student registration
The conditions that a student must meet in order to qualify for student registration can be found in chapter 1, article 2 of the Regulations for Student Registration, Tuition Fees and Examination Fees 2018-2019.
3.1.3 Types of student registration
The law distinguishes two types of student registration:

- as a student, or
- as an external student.

A student can be registered at the university on:

- a full-time study programme;
- a part-time study programme, or
- a dual study programme.

More information can be found in the Regulations for Student Registration, Tuition Fees and Examination Fees 2018-2019.

3.1.4 Rights ensuing from student registration
Students who are registered at the university have the right to follow courses, receive academic counselling and take tests and exams for the study programme for which they are registered. This also applies to any elective courses that form part of the chosen study programme. Students also have the right to use the educational facilities, examination facilities and other facilities that are essential for their study programme. Registration as an external student only grants the right to make use of examination facilities. More information about these rights can be found in the OER of the particular study programme.

The student has access to and may make use of the university buildings and grounds, the collections, the study facilities and the student facilities of the university, unless this is not in the interest of teaching and research and provided the available capacity is not exceeded.

If the Executive Board terminates a study programme, students are entitled to complete that programme at the same or another university within a reasonable period of time.

When exercising any of the rights stated above, students are obliged to carry with them their student card (i.e. proof of student registration) and a university ID card (LU Card), and to state their name and address if asked to do so by the Executive Board or persons designated by the Executive Board. When taking tests, students may be required to provide additional proof of identity, such as a passport or driving license.

During lectures, tutorials and other classes within university buildings, students and lecturers are not allowed to wear garments that cover the face and/or other attributes that seriously limit non-verbal communication. During tests and examinations, the wearing of garments and/or other attributes that cover the face is forbidden inasmuch as these seriously impede establishing the identity of the person involved.

Disclaimer: This is an unofficial translation provided for information purposes only. If there are any discrepancies between the original Dutch version of the ‘Studentenstatuut 2018-2019’ and this English translation, the Dutch version shall govern. Any such discrepancies are not binding and are of no legal effect.
3.1.5 Student registration and termination of registration during the academic year

Student registration on a study programme is valid for a whole academic year. A student is registered from September, or in some cases from February, if all requirements for student registration have been fulfilled within that month.

Changing type of student registration

During the academic year, students may change their registration status to full-time, part-time or dual provided they have permission from the department in question. This is not possible with retroactive effect.

Termination of registration within the academic year

During the academic year student registration can be terminated at the request of the CvB or the student. The situations in which this can be permitted are stated in the Regulations for Student Registration, Tuition Fees and Examination Fees 2018-2019, chapter II, articles 7 and 8.

3.2 Tuition fees and examination fees

3.2.1 Payment; tariffs

Registration as a student or external student can only be finalised once all requirements, including financial obligations, have been met. All requirements and obligations can be found in chapter III of the Regulations for Student Registration, Tuition Fees and Examination Fees 2018-2019. Information on how tuition and examination fees must be paid can be found in chapter IV, article 1. The tariffs for tuition and examination fees can be found in the overview of institutional tuition fees and other educational tariffs.

3.2.2 Tuition fee reductions and exemptions

For students whose registration begins on 1 February, five twelfths (5/12) of the tuition fees will be deducted. Students who have registered for several programmes at the university pay the tuition fee for the programme with the highest fee. This is not applicable to post-initial Master’s degree programmes.

Students who are registered at another educational institution are entitled to an exemption from payment of the tuition fee. Information concerning the circumstances under which a student may be entitled to a reduction of, or exemption from, tuition fees can be found in the Regulations for Student Registration, Tuition Fees and Examination Fees 2018-2019.

This article is not applicable to examination fees.

3.2.3 Restitution following termination of student registration

Students may be entitled to restitution of tuition fees upon termination of student registration. The conditions and exemptions for restitution of tuition fees, as mentioned in chapter IV article 17 of the Regulations for Student Registration, Tuition Fees and Examination Fees 2018-2019, are applicable. Restitution of examination fees is not possible.

Disclaimer: This is an unofficial translation provided for information purposes only. If there are any discrepancies between the original Dutch version of the ‘Studentenstatuut 2018-2019’ and this English translation, the Dutch version shall govern. Any such discrepancies are not binding and are of no legal effect.
3.2.4 Damages
The amount of damages applicable for the use of educational and examination facilities without registration as a student of the university can be found in chapter V article 18 of the Regulations for Student Registration, Tuition Fees and Examination Fees 2018-2019.

3.2.5 Legal protection
All students are entitled to lodge an objection or (administrative) appeal against a decision concerning student (de)registration, if they believe that insufficient consideration has been given to their interests or that regulations and legislation have been applied incorrectly or for improper purposes. Refer to chapter 11 of the Student Charter for further information.

Student registration data is protected by a privacy regulation.
4. Education

The quality of education is guaranteed by the requirements laid down in the Framework Document – Leiden Register of Study Programmes. All rights and obligations pertaining to education and academic counseling can be found in the OER of the study programme.

4.1 Quality of education

The Leiden Register of Study Programmes describes the quality standards that must be met by a study programme. The Faculty Board periodically checks whether a programme meets these requirements. In addition, the programme is periodically accredited following an external assessment. Internal quality checks, including student evaluations of the education provided, mid-term reviews and study programme annual reports, form the basis of these external reviews.

4.2 Organisation of the programmes

Study programmes at Leiden University may be full-time, part-time or dual. The faculty is responsible for specifying the organisation, academic curriculum and teaching facilities of its programmes within the OER.

4.3 Manageable Study Programme

Study programmes must be organised in such a way that full-time students can reasonably be expected to obtain 60 ECTS in an academic year. The organisation of the education provided and the way it is structured is laid down in the OER of the study programme. The e-prospectus serves as an appendix to the OER. The Faculty Board and Programme Management, advised by the Departmental Teaching Committee, regularly verifies that students have an appropriate workload. This verification requirement is set down in the law.

4.4 Affordable Education

The cost for all study essentials (books, materials and practical-session necessities), as required for participation in education, test and exams for a study programme are, in principle, the responsibility of the student or external student. The costs incurred for excursions, work experience and internships are also the responsibility of the student. Prior to commencing the education in question, the student must be informed about the necessary study materials and the cost of the study materials, excursion etc. for that educational element.

4.5 Student Counselling

All students are entitled to academic counselling. In Leiden particular attention is given to the counselling of students from ethnic or cultural minorities. The faculty is responsible for the organisation of provisions for academic counselling. Methods of counselling are partially determined by the nature of the education provided. The OER of the study programme contains information on the monitoring of academic progress and individual academic counselling, as well as information on the ways in which students with a disability can take tests and examinations.
4.6 Code of Conduct on the Language of Instruction

The code of conduct on the language of instruction prescribes for each study programme the language of instruction and the language in which tests and examinations take place. The code of conduct applies to all programmes, except those in which a particular language is the object of study. The OER of a given programme specifies the language of instruction of the programme; this is indicated for each course in the (e)-Prospectus.

4.7 Department Teaching Committee

In addition to the University Council, Faculty Council and the LUMC Student Council, there are also Department Teaching Committees. The role of the Department Teaching Committee is to advise about the maintenance and improvement of the quality of the study programme, the OER and all matters concerning the education provided by the study programme. For a number of elements within the OER, the Department Teaching Committee has the right of consent. The Faculty Board and/or Department Administration are legally required to react to advice or proposals from the Department Teaching Committee within two months. Meetings take place between the Department Teaching Committee and the Department Administration and/or Faculty Board at least twice a year, upon the request of the Department Teaching Committee. The Faculty Board and Department Administration have a duty to provide information: that is to say, they must provide the Department Teaching Committee, in a timely manner, with the information it requires to fulfil its role (including information requested by the committee to fulfil its role), in all reasonableness and fairness. The Department Teaching Committee consists of students and lecturers from the study programme(s) in question, half of the members being students and half being lecturers.

The way in which the Department Teaching Committee is formed (election, nomination) is laid down in the Faculty regulations. The methodology of the Department Teaching Committee is laid down in the rules of the committee.

4.8 Academic integrity, examination fraud and plagiarism

Every Leiden University study programme focuses attention on ensuring the integrity of academic research. This is done partially on the basis of the Netherlands Code of Conduct for Academic Practice and the Academic Integrity Complaints Procedure.

In the event of a violation of the rules set out in this context (examination fraud and plagiarism) by the student, the Board of Examiners may take measures on the grounds of article 7.12b, second paragraph, of the WHW. In the event of fraud committed by a student, the Board of Examiners may choose to set a period of a maximum of one year in which the student in question will no longer be entitled to take one or more tests or examinations at the university. In case of serious fraud, the Board of Examiners may advise the Executive Board to permanently terminate the student’s registration on the programme in question.

Disclaimer: This is an unofficial translation provided for information purposes only. If there are any discrepancies between the original Dutch version of the ‘Studentenstatuut 2018-2019’ and this English translation, the Dutch version shall govern. Any such discrepancies are not binding and are of no legal effect.
4.9 Study abroad regulations
The University can have a duty of care to support students who find themselves in (imminent) calamitous situations whilst abroad for their studies. The Regulations on studying abroad detail all requirements and obligations concerning travel insurance, the providing of travel and accommodation details, calamities and possible liability.

Students who travel or spend time abroad for their study programme must follow all instructions issued by the university and adhere strictly to the Regulations on studying abroad in order for the university’s duty of care to remain applicable.
5. The Leiden Study System with Binding Study Advice

5.1 Leiden study system
The Leiden study system with binding study advice (BSA) gives students the right to good guidance by way of the student counselling plan.

Students who fail to meet the BSA requirements receive negative binding study advice and may not register as a student of Leiden University on the same study programme, or another programme that has the same propaedeutic phase (first year), for a period of four years.

5.1.1 Student counselling plan
The Leiden Study System consists of eight steps which are intended to facilitate academic success. These steps begin with the initial orientation phase and lead up to the study plan.

More information, and a detailed explanation of the student counselling plan and study advice, can be found in the Regulation on Binding Study Advice. Each OER also included a section on academic guidance.

Provided below is short explanation of the elements of a student counselling plan

Introductory meeting
Every student is entitled to an introductory meeting with a study advisor or mentor. Introductory meetings take place before the end of September (or in exceptional cases in October). Matters such as the student’s expectation of, and reasons for selecting, the study programme are discussed, as is concrete information on the programme and the student counselling plan.

Students also have the opportunity to discuss any personal circumstances that may affect their academic progress. If necessary an adapted study plan can be drawn up that takes into account these personal circumstances. A definition of what is meant by the term personal circumstances can be found in the Regulation on Binding Study Advice, article 5.8.

Mentors
All study programmes offer guidance in the form of designated mentors (lecturing staff). Mentors are responsible for the structuring of the study environment and for offering support during the process of learning to study. In collaboration with the study advisor, mentors are the first point of contact for students within their study programme. Certain study programmes offer other forms of mentorship, for example mentor groups or student mentors. More information can be found in the OER of the study programme.

Study advice
The Regulation on Binding Study Advice provides information on the (up to) four moments when study advice is issued and what this means for students. The student receives study advice via uMail.
Examinations and re-sits
The periods in which examinations are re-sits take place are stated within the study schedule. It is important that these periods correlate with the four moments when study advice is issued to students. Departments are expected to assess the progress of their students at an early point in the academic year (early October till mid-November). This assists students in determining whether a good study choice has been made as early as possible.

5.2 Binding study advice
The Faculty Board issues definitive binding study advice to students concerning their progression on the study programme at the end of the first academic year. Students must obtain the minimum number of study credits required and meet any additional requirements as specified in the OER of the study programme. Additional requirements are courses which the students must complete as part of his/her required number of study credits. An explanation of BSA can be found on the university website. For full-time students the norm is 45 study credits (ects) and for part-time students 30 study credits (ects).

5.3 Personal Circumstances
If a student is experiencing personal circumstances, as described in the procedures concerning personal circumstances, that may lead to academic delay and negative study advice, he/she must make this known to the department as quickly as possible (at least by 15 July in the current academic year). To do so the student must contact a study advisor at the department in order to discuss academic progress and draw up an adapted study plan.

Once the student’s academic delay has been recorded the student can request that the Board of Examiners take his/her personal circumstances into consideration when drawing up definitive study advice. This request must be submitted to the BSA Committee at SEA as early as possible and at least before 15 July of the academic year in question. The request must be accompanied by the necessary supporting documents. These may take the form of, for example, a doctor’s statement concerning illness or disability, or a student counsellor’s statement concerning exceptional family circumstances.

The Board of Examiners will take registered cases of personal circumstances into consideration when drawing up binding study advice. It can occur that the Board of Examiners has too little information about a case of personal circumstances at the end of the first year of study to issue BSA. In such situations, the issuing of BSA may be delayed until the end of the second year of study at the latest.

The procedures concerning personal circumstances are stated in the Regulation on Binding Study Advice. Here can be found information on general procedures, procedures per category, postponement or discontinuation of studies, the hardship clause and a detailed explanation of all procedures.
5.4 Hardship clause
If a student does not meet the norms set, the Board of Examiners can, in exceptional circumstances, nevertheless decide to deviate from the standard procedure. If the student’s academic results, attitude to study, and level of motivation convince the Board that he/she will be able to successfully complete the study programme, the Board may choose not to issue negative study advice. In such cases the decision is issued on the basis of hardship of a serious nature.

5.5 Dossier
In accordance with the Privacy regulations for dossiers within the BSA study system, the department must keep a dossier on each student registered for the first time on the propaedeutic phase of the programme. The regulations dictate which information must be contained within the dossier, who may have access to the dossier, who may be provided with information from the dossier, and what must be done with the dossier after study advice has been issued. All students have the right to view the contents of the dossier and to add an objection to it.

5.6 Legal protection
Students have the right to lodge an administrative appeal with the examination appeals board within six weeks of the date of issuance of the definitive study advice. Students are permitted to continue following the study programme during appeal procedures concerning study advice. In this period tests may be taken but these will not be marked pending the appeal. Only if the decision of the Examination Appeals Board determines that the student can continue on the study programme will the tests be marked and the grades released. The student is not registered on the study programme during the period in which the appeal is being processed.
6. Monitoring academic progress of international students

In accordance with the ‘Code of Conduct – International Students in Higher Education’ Leiden University is required to monitor the academic progress of all its students who have a residence permit issued for the purpose of ‘study’. Each academic year this group of students must obtain at least 50% of the yearly required academic credits, and pre-master students must complete their programme within the time-frame officially designated for the pre-master programme. The Board of Examiners of each study programme determines if a student has met the academic progress requirements. The Board of Examiners reports its findings to SEA, who in turn notifies the IND of any students who have not met the requirement. The IND will then begin procedures to revoke the residence permit of the students in question.

Information concerning what the university offers international students and the guidance made available to them can be found in chapter 5, article 5.5, of the Code of Conduct.

6.1 Personal circumstances

If it is established that the student's academic progress has been hindered by personal circumstances SEA can withhold notification to the IND. The student may only make use of each category of personal circumstances on one occasion during his/her period of residency as a student.

Academic delay

If students are experiencing personal circumstances that may lead to academic delay, they must make this known to the department in a timely manner. To do so, students must contact a study advisor at the department in order to discuss academic progress and – if necessary - draw up an adapted study plan in which agreements are made concerning how the student can graduate as quickly as possible.

Students can submit a request to the Board of Examiners, via a student counsellor, that their personal circumstances to be taken into consideration when deciding whether the academic progress requirement has been met. This request must be submitted to the BSA Committee at SEA preferably before 15 June and ultimately before 15 July of the academic year. The request must be accompanied by the necessary supporting documents. These may take the form of, for example, a doctor’s statement concerning illness or disability, or a student counsellor’s statement concerning exceptional family circumstances.

The Board of Examiners can only take reported and registered cases of personal circumstances into consideration. Arrangements made with study advisors will also be taken into consideration if personal circumstances have been correctly registered.
6.2 Hardship clause

In exceptional circumstances the Board of Examiners may apply the hardship clause. If a student does not meet the norms set the Board of Examiners can nevertheless decide to deviate from the standard procedure. The Board of Examiners submits a well-substantiated decision to SEA instructing that notification to the IND should be withheld. In such cases the decision is issued on the basis of hardship of a serious nature.
7. Tests and examinations

Each component of a study programme (i.e. course) involves a test. Information about tests and exams can be found in the QER, (e)-Prospectus, or an accompanying appendix. This information states the periods in which tests may be taken; how long the test results are valid; how the tests are administered; how students can inspect their tests; and the order in which tests must be taken.

7.1 Evaluation and inspection of tests

A test is an inquiry into the student’s knowledge, insight and skills. The results of this inquiry are assessed by the examiner (lecturer); students can either pass or fail a test. Students have the right to inspect the work after assessment and, if they wish, receive an explanation of the evaluation. The Board of Examiners draws up rules on test procedures and on the measures to be taken in this respect. The Board of Examiners also draws up rules for the assessment and recording of test and exam results.

7.2 Fraud

In the event of fraud (examination fraud and plagiarism) by a student, the Board of Examiners of the faculty/department in question decides what action should be taken. In the worst case the Board may set a period of maximum one year during which the student will be barred from taking one or more tests or examinations at the university. In the event of severe fraud, the Board of Examiners may advise the Executive Board to permanently terminate the student’s registration on the programme in question (chapter II article 8 point 2 of the Regulations for student registration, tuition fees and examination fees 2018-2019).

7.3 Examinations

The university offers bachelor and master study programmes. Bachelor programmes have a propaedeutic phase and a bachelor examination. Most bachelor programmes have a propaedeutic exam as part of the propaedeutic phase. Master programmes have a master exam. As a rule, students are considered to have passed an examination once they have successfully completed all the tests for a particular programme.

Students who pass an examination are awarded a diploma accompanied by a diploma supplement. These specify the title/degree awarded and the examination components, as well as any rights and qualifications that may be granted.

7.4 Regulations on postponing graduation

The WHW specifies that the Board of Examiners must issue the diploma as soon as the examination has been successfully completed. However students may want to postpone graduation, for example in order to complete an additional course which can then be included on their diploma. There are certain circumstances under which this is possible. A detailed explanation can be found in the Regulations on postponing graduation.
7.5 Dossier diploma

Students who have not met all the requirements for an examination but who have passed at least two tests may request the Board of Examiners to provide a statement specifying the tests that have been passed.

7.6 Course and examination regulations

Every programme or group of programmes is subject to Course and Examination Regulations (OER). The Course and Examination Regulations are determined by the Faculty Board with prior permission from the Faculty Council and, for certain elements, from the Programme Committees. The Faculty Board also supervises the implementation of the regulations and is responsible for their frequent review. Responsibility for the latter is also shared by the department teaching committees and the Executive Board. The (e)-Prospectus, is an appendix of the OER.

The OER should at least include the following:

- the content of the programme and any related examinations;
- the content of the majors within the programme;
- the qualities in terms of knowledge, understanding and skills that students must have acquired by the end of the programme;
- where applicable, the organisation of practicals, and the compulsory attendance of practicals in order to be allowed to take certain tests. In this context, the Board of Examiners retains the right to grant exemptions from practicals or to formulate alternative requirements;
- the workload of the programme and of all the individual course components;
- the number and order of tests, as well as the moments at which they can be taken;
- the full-time, part-time or dual organisation of the programme;
- if necessary, the order, the periods in which, and the number of times per year that tests and examinations are offered;
- if necessary, the duration of the validity of test results. In principle, test results have unlimited validity unless the OER states otherwise;
- the manner in which tests are taken. In special cases, the Board of Examiners may deviate from these regulations;
- the manner in which students with a disability can take tests;
- the public nature of oral tests. In some cases, the Board of Examiners may deviate from these regulations;
- the term within which the test results must have been determined; and, if applicable, when it is possible to deviate from this term;
- the method by which students may inspect a written test and its assessment criteria;
- the grounds on which the Board of Examiners may grant exemptions from one or more tests on the basis of higher education tests or examinations previously passed or knowledge or skills acquired elsewhere;

• where necessary, that having passed certain tests is a prerequisite for taking subsequent tests;
• the monitoring of academic progress, individual student counselling and the implementation of the Leiden study system with a binding study advice;
• the degree to be awarded by the Executive Board on successful completion of a programme;
• the manner in which deficiencies in previous education may be corrected;
• the requirements to be set for colloquium doctum admission;
• for master's programmes: the entry requirements for the master's programme and the manner in which admission to the programme is organised;
8. Financial support

Within the university it is possible, in certain situations, for students to be granted financial support.

8.1 Regulation on financial support
In the Law (WHW article 7, 51) it is stated that the university must offer financial support to students who experience academic delay as a result of exceptional circumstances, if the student meets certain conditions. The Regulations on financial support for students are based upon this law. The regulations describe under what circumstances and conditions, and in what way, students may request financial support of this nature.

8.2 Support in financial emergencies
Students who are in acute incidental financial need can request support from the university. Support can take the form of short-term interest-free loans or (incidental) gifts. It should be stressed that this is not structural support. In addition there is a cap on the sum that can be given. More information can be requested from a student counsellor.

8.3 General student funds
General student funds are intended to contribute towards the study costs of good students who are unable to obtain other forms of financial support or loans. Subsidies for one-off study-related trips abroad can be requested. Requests for travel subsidies are evaluated on the basis of the quality of the project, the academic results achieved and the financial situation of the student. If a subsidy is granted, the student must submit a report to the administrator of the fund upon completion of the project.

8.4 Lustra scholarship
The Lustra scholarship is intended for students who wish to study, undertake an internship, or carry out research at an institution or company outside Europe as part of their Leiden University study programme. This study component must be approved as a part of the Leiden study programme by the Board of Examiners of the programme in question, and the student should have completed at least the propaedeutic phase. Further information on this scholarship can be found on the university website. Students can also consult the international exchange coordinator at their faculty/department or the Student Affairs Front Office at Plexus.
9. Management and co-participation

There are several boards within the university that contribute to policy making and provide advice to administrative bodies. Students wishing to participate on one of these boards may do so by exercising their active and passive electoral rights.

9.1 Central management
The central management (authority) of the university falls under the responsibility of the Executive Board (CvB). The CvB is accountable to the Board of Governors (RvT). Co-participation is exercised by the University Council (UR). An outline of the management structure of the university can be found in the Regulations on management and administration.

9.2 Co-participation
The university has a system of un-divided co-participation, that is to say a structure consisting of a University Council, Faculty Councils and Programme Committees, on which staff and students both hold seats. The Faculty of Medicine/LUMC is an exception in that it has a system of divided co-participation.

9.2.1 Passive electoral rights
Every student at the university is entitled to stand for election to a co-participation body.

University level
Students wishing to exercise co-participation at university level can stand for election to the University Council. The rights of student members of the University Council can be found in the Regulations for the University Council.

Faculty level
Every faculty has its own Faculty Council with both student and staff representatives. The rights and obligations of members can be found in the corresponding Faculty regulations. The Faculty of Medicine/LUMC is an exception in that this faculty is governed by the LUMC Management Board. Within this faculty students can stand for election to the LUMC Student Council.

Study programme level
In addition to the University Council, Faculty Council and LUMC Student Council, there are also study programme commissions and management bodies. More information on the management of study programmes and the contribution of Programme Committees can be found in the Faculty regulations.

9.2.2 Active electoral rights
Students have the right to exercise their active electoral rights each year. This consists of voting for a co-participation body.

University elections
Students may vote digitally for student members of the University Council, Faculty Council and LUMC Student Council. Information about elections is provided in the Mare university newspaper, the (digital) university newsletter and on the website. Information about parties, as well as electoral regulations, results and candidate lists can be found on the website. Elections for Programme Committees are only held if this is stipulated in the Faculty regulations.

9.2.3 Legal protection
Special rules for (administrative) appeals apply to university elections. The term within which an appeal may be lodged is limited to only a few days in order to guarantee a fast and legally incontestable election result. A detailed explanation can be found in the Electoral Regulations and the Regulations of the appeals and objections committee. More information about the legal procedure may be obtained from the Central Polling Committee.
10. University facilities

The university offers a range of educational, cultural and sporting facilities.

The Student Affairs Front Office at Plexus is the first point of contact for (prospective) students who have questions about study and studying. Questions can be posed to staff members at the information centre on a range of subjects, including those listed below.

- Academic progress, delay and financing
- Studying with a disability
- Studying and top-level sport
- Ombuds officer
- Study and student problems
- Careers and the job market
- Studying and internships abroad
- Plexus Student Centre

In addition to guidance and advice services the university also offers the following facilities:

- University libraries
- Academic Language Centre
- Studium Generale
- MARE
- University Sports Centre
- Department of Health, Safety and Environment
- LAK courses
- University shop

A complete overview of all the facilities offered by the university can be found on the website.

If there are any discrepancies between the original Dutch version of the Studentenstatuut 2018-2019 and this English translation, the Dutch version shall govern. Any such discrepancies are not binding and are of no legal effect.
11. Legal protection

The university has several forms of legal protection for students. Each form has its own procedure depending on the type of complaint, the decision in question (e.g. concerning registration, re-takes) and the administrative body concerned (e.g. the Executive Board or the Board of Examiners). Objections and appeals must be lodged within six weeks of the decision in question.

11.0 Digital complaints box
The digital complaints box helps students determine whether they may submit a complaint, to whom, and how to do so.

11.1 Lodging an appeal

11.1.1 Administrative appeal – examination appeals board (CBE)
Leiden University has an Examination appeals board with whom a student can lodge an (administrative) appeal. The Regulations of the examination appeals board describe how a student can lodge an appeal, what should be stated in the appeal, the procedures followed by the CBE and how the CBE reaches its decisions. Here below can be found an explanation of the competences of the CBE, its decisions, and the grounds for appeal, in so far as these are not stated in the regulations of the CBE.

Competences of the Examinations appeals board (see article 7.61, point 1, WHW)
The CBE decides in cases involving:

- binding (negative) study advice accompanied by a refusal of permission to continue studying, issued at the end of the first academic year for a full-time student; or the first year for a part-time study programme;
- decisions issued by Boards of Examiners and examiners;
- decisions made by Boards of Examiners concerning the number of study credits earned in an academic year and the passing of a final exam;
- decisions made on the basis of additional investigation into deficiencies in prior education;
- decisions concerning admission to bachelor’s and master’s programmes, including decisions on admission via the colloquium doctum procedure.

If a decision has not been taken (on time) a student may also lodge an appeal. This can concern cases in which a statutory or reasonable term for the issuance of a decision has been exceeded.

Grounds for appeal can include:
The contention that

- the decision contravenes the Law or university regulations have been incorrectly implemented;
• the body or person concerned has not given reasonable consideration to the interests of the student;
• the decision contravenes the principle of good administration (=general legal guidelines to which the body or person should adhere, such as legal certainty and legitimate expectations)

An appeal cannot be lodged against an assessment. However if a student thinks the assessment has taken place in an unlawful way he/she may lodge an appeal on those grounds.

Amicable settlement
Before the CBE begins processing an appeal, the parties involved must first discuss whether an amicable agreement can be reached. This procedure is described in the Regulations of the CBE, articles 9, 10 and 11.

Review of the appeal
If the parties involved cannot reach an amicable agreement the CBE will begin processing the appeal. The body that issued the decision submits a defence statement in which it details why it believes the decision to be correct. The student is given a copy of this defence and other relevant documents and may respond in writing. The appeal is then heard in a session of the Examination Appeals Board. All parties involved have the opportunity to further elaborate their point of view during the session. A more detailed description can be found in the Regulations of the CBE.

Decision
The Examination Appeals Board will reach a decision within 10 weeks of receipt of the notice of appeal, as is described in the Regulations of the CBE (article 19 and article 7.61.4) WHW.

The decision may be one of the following:

• The appeal is inadmissible. This means that the CBE cannot take a decision as to the substance of the appeal because of prior procedural errors which have not been rectified in time.
• The appeal is unfounded: the contested decision is upheld.
• The appeal is upheld: the decision is completely or partially nullified. The CBE may rule that a new decision must be taken in which the Examination Appeal Board’s decision is taken into account. The Board of Examiners will thereafter issue a new decision.

In urgent cases the student may request an interim provision from the CBE. If the chairman grants this request the student may continue following the study programme under certain conditions. Whist awaiting the result of the appeal any examinations/tests taken by the student in question will not be graded nor will academic results be published.

Disclaimer: This is an unofficial translation provided for information purposes only. If there are any discrepancies between the original Dutch version of the ‘Studentenstatuut 2018-2019’ and this English translation, the Dutch version shall govern. Any such discrepancies are not binding and are of no legal effect.
The session dates and decisions of the CBE can be found on the website.

If a student does not agree with a decision made by the CBE he/she is entitled to lodge an appeal with the Appeals Tribunal for Higher Education in The Hague.

11.1.2 Administrative appeal – Executive Board
Students may lodge an appeal with the Executive Board (CvB) against a decision made by an (administrative) body. Only students who are directly affected by the decision may lodge an appeal to the CvB. If a student has the right to lodge an administrative appeal this is stated on the decision. The appeal must be lodged within six weeks.

11.2 Lodging an objection
If an (administrative) appeal to the CBE or CvB is not permitted it is often possible to lodge an objection with the body that issued the decision. This must be done within six weeks of the announcement of the decision. If the objection is not submitted on time it is considered to not have met all the stipulated requirements. This may result in the objection not being processed (declared inadmissible).

11.2.1 Appeals and objections committee (CBB)
Students who do not agree with a decision made on behalf of the CvB can submit an objection to the appeals and objections committee. This may concern, for example, decisions about student (de)registration, tuition fees, financial support or selection and placement, including the allocation of ranking numbers, for numerus fixus study programmes.

Amicable settlement
Before the CBB begins processing an objection, the parties involved must first discuss whether an amicable agreement can be reached. This procedure is described in the Regulations of the CBB article 16.

Review of the objection
If the parties involved cannot reach an amicable agreement the CBB will begin processing the objection. The body that issued the decision submits a defence statement in which it details why it believes the decision to be correct. The student is given a copy of this defence and other relevant documents and may respond in writing. Before the CBB issues its advice to the CvB the objection is heard in an open session. The CBB's advice serves as the basis for the CvB's decision on the objection. As a rule, the CvB issues its decision within 10 weeks of receipt of the objection (WHW article 7.63b). A more detailed description can be found in the Regulations of the CBB.

Immediate urgency
It can occur that a case is considered to have ‘immediate urgency’. By this is meant that it is not possible to wait for normal procedures to be carried out. In such cases, a student can request that the CBB issues its advice to the CvB as quickly as possible. The chairperson will decide whether the case indeed has immediate urgency one week after the submission of the objection and will notify the student of his/her conclusion. The CvB will in turn issue its decision within four weeks of receiving the objection. A more detailed explanation can be found in article 17 of the Regulations of the CBB.

If the student does not agree with the decision of the CvB he/she may lodge an appeal with the Appeals Tribunal for Higher Education in The Hague.

11.3 Appeals tribunal for Higher Education (CBHO)

If a student, having completed an administrative appeal or objection procedure, still does not agree with a decision on an objection made by the CvB or a decision of the CBE he/she can contact the CBHO. The CBHO will then issue a final decision.

This may concern issues such as:

- tuition or examination fees; financial support; exemptions;
- selection and placement;
- binding negative study advice;
- violations of the general regulations or disciplinary regulations of the university;
- admission to a bachelor’s or master’s programme;
- iudicium abeundi;
- decisions made concerning tests or examinations.

Appeals to the CBHO must be submitted in writing.

11.4 Complaints

11.4.1 Digital complaints box

Every student at the university who has been issued with a decision that has consequences for his/her situation is entitled to lodge an appeal or objection, or make a complaint.

This can be done via the digital complaints box. A short list of questions assists the students in determining how and to whom a complaint should be submitted. Students can also ask a Student Counsellor for advice on the submitting of appeals and objections.

11.4.2 Ombuds officer

All students are entitled to consult the ombuds officer in cases of problems or conflict with a staff member or administrative body of the university. Students can request that the ombuds officer assists them in finding a solution to the problem.

11.4.3 Confidential counsellor on unacceptable behaviour

If students experience unacceptable behaviour, such as sexual intimidation, aggression, violence or discrimination, they can seek assistance from the confidential counsellor. Students may also submit a complaint to the complaints committee for unacceptable behaviour. The procedures for doing so can be found in the regulations on complaints relating to unacceptable behaviour.

11.4.4 Confidential counsellor for malpractice

If students suspect that serious malpractice is taking place, they may contact the confidential counsellor for malpractice. Students can also report malpractice to the director of their study programme. The relevant procedures can be found in Regulations for Whistleblowers.

11.4.5 Complaints coordinator
Every faculty has a complaints coordinator who oversees the correct processing of complaints within the university. The university has also established regulations on other types of complaints (in Dutch). These cover complaints that do not fall under any other specific regulation.

11.5 Codes of conduct
The university recognises several codes of conduct. These are intended as guidelines for the provision of a good, safe and stimulating work and study environment.

The university’s expectation concerning the relationship between lecturers and students is stated in the Code of conduct on standards of behaviour for lecturers and students of Leiden University.

The Code of conduct for international students in higher education contains binding guidelines concerning the recruitment, information provision, admission and guidance for international students. International students are entitled to submit a complaint to the code of conduct commission, but only once they have followed the complaints procedure within the university.

11.6 Privacy regulations – Central student administration
All students registered with the university are entitled to view their own personal data and academic results as recorded in the student administration system. The student administration system is subject to the privacy regulations for the central student administration. These regulations state how a student can view data and under what circumstances information can be provided to third parties.

11.7 Protection of personal data
The university has drawn up a privacy statement. All personal data is handled according to the Law on the protection of personal data (de Wet bescherming persoonsgegevens). The Dutch Data Protection Authority ensures that all personal data is handled in a careful, proper and secure manner. It also checks that all legal requirements in this area are being met.
