

Bestuurlijke reactie Leiden University College: Global Challenges

The reaccreditation resulted in the overall outcome 'Good'. The programme improved the assessment on all standards. Next the programme assessment the panel performed a practice-based assessment to reaffirm the distinctive, small-scale and intensive character of the bachelor's programme (bijzonder kenmerk Kleinschalig en Intensief Onderwijs).

The panel found that LUC's ambition to contribute towards societal change by addressing global challenges provides a unique and attractive profile for (prospective) students. This explicit focus strongly resonates the ideas underlying the LAS educational philosophy and proposes an attractive and challenging learning environment for students. Assessment is imaginative and creative and very suitable to test both students' social skills, professional attitude and creativity next to their academic capacities and skills. Next to minor suggestions for improvement the panel recommends paying additional attention to the job perspective for bachelor graduates in the (international) labour market.
